

The lender will need you to confirm the information they have received with document proof. The depth of history and records each lender requires will vary.