

MoneyPath stores your information in a 128-bit SSL secured database that provides data integrity for communication over the Internet. MoneyPath never stores your financial information on the Internet or in emails. In order for lenders to see your information, they must log into the secure database where they cannot share your information with anyone else.